Dear [Author Name],

I'm writing as a member of the Southern Independent Booksellers Alliance to ask you to consider adding an independent bookselling link to your website. BookSense.com provides book consumers access to over 3 million titles, available for purchase through more than 200 local independent bookstores.

By becoming one of our more than 2,000 affiliates, you will offer visitors to your website the opportunity to buy your book from an independent bookstore with Book Sense, an alternative many people prefer. By supporting local businesses, you help keep tax dollars in the community, and help prevent the "mallong" of America Plus, you'll earn valuable affiliate commissions for every referral that results in a sale!

For information about joining the BookSense.com Affiliate Program, point your Web browser to this address:

Thanks in advance for giving your website customers a choice.

Yours truly,
